

But She Had Longed For Something That Money
Wouldn't Buy

Marilyn Monroe

WILLIAM MARRION BRANHAM

52 I was in the mountain, a few weeks ago, and way back. When I was coming home...We went back, the family and I, to rest a little, where we're going again, the Lord willing, next week. And then, back there one night, I saw a vision. And it was a—a lovely, pretty woman, looked, young woman, running. She had her hand near, and she was perishing with a heart attack. A beautiful woman, and she dropped and was gone. And the Angel of the Lord said, “Now, when you hear of this, remember. They’re going to say that she committed suicide. But she died in a heart attack. It’s almost four, so you just say four o’clock.” And then He left me.

53 And I didn’t wake the family up, in the little cow camp, or where the cowboys stay, where we’d go back there to round up the cattle. I—I just let them sleep until morning. And then the next day, I mentioned it. And I said, “Some young woman, very attractive, is going to die in a heart attack.” And on the road out, two days later, there it come in on the radio. That this Miss...I can’t think of her name. [Someone says, “Monroe.”—Ed.] Monroe, Mrs. Monroe. I think that was her stage name, or whatever it was. Her name was something else. And she had died, and they said she committed suicide.

54 Now, it don't make any difference how much I'd say it, they're still going to say she committed suicide. But the child did not. She died in a heart attack. And if you'd watch, she had her hand, trying to get to the phone, the phone in her hand. She had a heart attack. They said sleeping pills was there. She had been taking them for a month, see, or more, out of that bottle. She died in a heart attack. And she died about four or five seconds before four o'clock, exactly.

55 And I read of her life story, in the magazine, how that her...She was an illegitimate child. And how that she had washed so many dishes. And her mother in the insane institution.
And she had longed with...She was the most perfect-bodied woman, I guess, in the world.
But she had longed for something that money wouldn't buy. I thought, "Oh, I wish I could have got to her. I know what she needed.” There you are.

56 May be members of the churches of fame, finest, famous Hollywood, where all the decoration and tinsel is on. But they seen those people. She could see they lived no different life than what she did. It takes influence. It takes the power of the resurrection of Christ amongst the people, that they see that Christ is not a statue hanging in a building, but He’s a living Being in the form of the Holy Spirit, living in men and women, bringing peace, and contentment, and happiness. Oh, if we could only got to the young lady before she left the world!

62-1013 - The Influence Of Another
Rev. William Marrion Branham

---